This program provides views from the trenches and from a neutral discovery referee on common (and not so common) deposition issues, such as witnesses preparation, difficult opposing counsel, and troublesome experts. This program is ideal for all attorneys who take depositions, from the first-year associate to the senior trial attorney.

Topics

- Inside the deposition room — witness preparation and coaching, proper and improper objections, best practices for taking and defending depositions
- A referee's perspectives on deposition disagreements and misconduct
- Notable appellate issues and decisions resulting from difficult depositions

Section Chairs: Nicholas Fram, Munger, Tolles & Olson & Victoria Weatherford, Durie Tangri
