With the changing landscape of the #metoo, #heforshe, #BLM movements, this roundtable of male law firm owners who are making significant efforts to ally with female and POC lawyers will #mansplain (in a positive way!) and discuss these issues amongst themselves and the broader community.

Topics

- A panel of male law firm owners who will share their views on how to support women and minorities in the practice of law;
- How to increase the visibility and promotion of their existing or new associates and/or partners;
- Ways to develop meaningful diversity, equity, and inclusion plans to include more diverse, intersectional hires in the future; and
- How to build networks outside of the "old boys" club, which often does not involve women and or persons of color.
