This presentation will be the first of two webinars regarding the emergence of AI-generated art. The presenters will give a summary of the current lawsuits that have been filed against companies using Large Language Model AI programs to generate art and other media.

During this first webinar we will hear from the defendants' counsel. The speakers will outline the key issues, the general claims and defenses, and some of the key authorship and liability issues.

Topics

- Learn about the current lawsuits surrounding AI-Generated Art
- Hear from counsel for the defendants in the major AI cases currently in litigation
- Learn the key issues of each case, as well as claims and defenses
- Hear the key authorship and liability issues at the heart of the AI cases
